

WHO WE ARE

The Children's Partnership is a California-based, national children's advocacy organization committed to providing every child a bright future. Our work is dedicated to improving the lives of underserved children where they live, learn, and play with breakthrough solutions at the intersection of research, policy, and community engagement.

WHAT WE DO

For nearly 25 years, we have worked to champion policies and offer resources to provide all children with the opportunities they need to thrive. We are a leading voice for children and a critical resource for communities across California and the nation. In our efforts to achieve equity for all children, and especially those most in need, we work to:

- Assure all children have access to quality, affordable health coverage and quality physical, oral, and mental health care.
- Advance effective uses of technology to improve health care and social service systems for underserved children.
- Ensure children benefit from opportunities afforded by the digital economy and society.

HOW WE DO IT

We aim to close the opportunity gap confronting too many children, especially children of color and those living in poverty, by improving health coverage and care and expanding digital health tools and opportunities. Our unique approach includes engaging communities, collaborating with strategic partners, leading with innovative expertise, and working on research-driven policies.

Engaged Communities

Our efforts begin and end in the communities we serve. We are both a resource and an ally for underserved communities across California, actively listening to their needs in order to understand the root causes behind the obstacles they face. Informed by valuable community input, our work strives to empower children and families.

Power Through Partnerships

More than just a part of our name, partnerships are at the heart of our work. We collaborate with a diverse network of strategic partners from the public, private, and nonprofit sectors to champion innovative programs and policies that help children thrive.

Valuable Expertise

Our team's leadership and expertise in health and technology policy, research, and programming have put us at the forefront of the children's advocacy movement and have positioned us as a trusted resource for leaders and policymakers on both sides of the aisle.

Research-Driven Policy

Informed policymaking leads to commonsense solutions. Our policy work is driven by research and responsive to community needs. By tracking programmatic breakthroughs at the local level, we help set the agenda for statewide policy and take our demonstrated solutions nationwide.
